THERE IS A WAR RAGING ACROSS
THE GREEN HILLS OF EARTH...

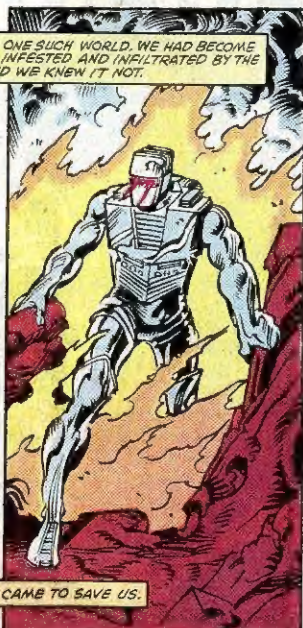

...A WAR
BROUGHT TO OUR WORLD BY AN INSIDIOUS,
EVIL ALIEN
F.O.B.

IT IS THE MISSION OF THIS GALLANT GALADORIAN
GLADIATOR TO SEEK OUT
AND DESTROY THESE DIRE
WRAITHS...

... WHEREVER THEY MAY SEEK TO HIDE, ON WHICH-EVER WORLD THEY MAY CHOOSE TO WREAK THEIR WICKEDNESS.

EARTH... OUR EARTH... WAS ONE SUCH WORLD. WE HAD BECOME BELSAGUERED, BESIEGED... INFESTED AND INFILTRATED BY THE PLAGUE OF WRAITHKIND, AND WE KNEW IT NOT.

BUT ROM KNEW, AND ROM CAME TO SAVE US.

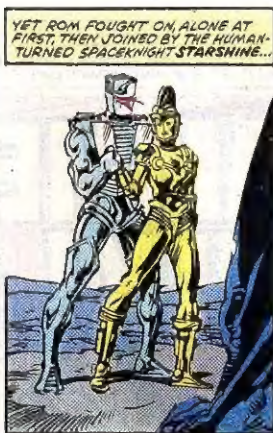

GALADOR'S GLORIOUS SON
SACRIFICED HIS HUMANITY,
BECOMING A COLD CYBORG
COMBAT MACHINE, A STERN
SILVER SPACEKNIGHT THAT HE MIGHT MORE EFFECTIVE-LY FIGHT FOR MANKIND...

... AGAINST THE
SOULLESS SCOURGE
FROM DARKEST SPACE.

BUT FOR EACH WRAITH DESTROYED OR BANISHED TO SHADY LIMBO BY ROM'S NEUTRALIZER, MORE WOULD RISE TO TAKE THEIR SORCEROUS SISTERS' PLACES.

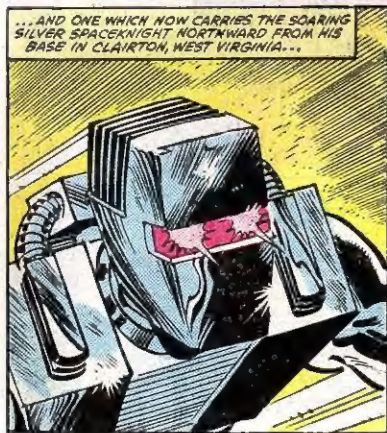

YET ROM FOUGHT ON, ALONE AT FIRST, THEN JOINED BY THE HUMAN-TURNED SPACEKNIGHT STARSHINE...

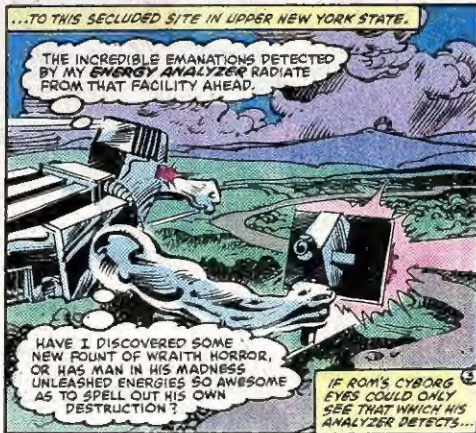

...AND, AT LAST, BY THE NATIONS OF EARTH... ONCE THEY WERE CONVINCED BY ROM THAT OUR WORLD EXISTED IN A STATE OF TOTAL WAR!

IT IS A WAR WAGED WITHOUT MERCY, WITH NO QUARTER ASKED AND NO QUARTER GIVEN, RAGING ACROSS THIS BATTLEFIELD EARTH...

...AND ONE WHICH NOW CARRIES THE SOARING SILVER SPACEKNIGHT NORTHWARD FROM HIS BASE IN CLAIRTON, WEST VIRGINIA...

...TO THIS SECLUDED SITE IN UPPER NEW YORK STATE.

THE INCREDIBLE EMANATIONS DETECTED BY MY ENERGY ANALYZER RADIATE FROM THAT FACILITY AHEAD.

HAVE I DISCOVERED SOME NEW POUND OF WRAITH HORROR, OR HAS MAN IN HIS MADNESS UNLEASHED ENERGIES SO AWESOME AS TO SPELL OUT HIS OWN DESTRUCTION?

IF ROM'S CYBORG EYES COULD ONLY SEE THAT WHICH HIS ANALYZER DETECTS...

...ROM WOULD SHUDDER TO HIS SPACEKNIGHT SOUL AT THE UNCANNY ACCURACY OF HIS PREMONITION!

Make Up To $275.00 or More Extra Per Week As A "MAILING LIST PROTECTION AGENT"

Do you want to pick up some extra easy cash? If so, we have an opportunity that you can take advantage of and it will actually supplement your present income. This fabulous way for you to make money takes very little time and virtually no effort. Plus, we will make payments directly to you. What could be better?

Dear Friend:

We are looking for a few honest and responsible individuals to act as our "MAILING LIST PROTECTION AGENTS". This is an on-going endeavor that you can participate in for as long as you like, and really earn up to $275.00 per week or more in the process.

What is A Mailing List Protection Agent?

We are the U.S. LIST PROTECTION COMPANY and we protect mailing list owners from having their valuable list of customers stolen or used without authorization. In addition, at the same time, we monitor the delivery of the United States Postal Service. This is a very important service for a mailing list owner to have. He has to protect his mailing list because in many cases, it cost him hundreds of thousands of dollars to compile. If a mailing list was stolen and left undetected, it could very well put the list owner out of business.

Here is where you come in and how we protect our clients from having their mailing lists used without authorization. We have thousands of mailing list owners who a low many authorized mailings on their list each year. Each time an authorized mailing is made, they are vulnerable to having their list stolen. Therefore, we supply the mailing list owners with a secret list of "decoy" names and addresses. He inserts these "decoys" into his mailing list without making anybody aware of it. Then if an unauthorized mailing is made on the list, the "decoys" will receive more mail than they are supposed to. The mailing list owner will have solid evidence of any unauthorized mailings and can pursue legal action on that basis.

You, as a Mailing List Protection Agent, will have your address and a code name used as a decoy. For example, if your name is Robert Smith, you may give yourself the code name of James Smith. This way you can distinguish your personal mail from the decoy mail. Now, when you get your daily mail, you will simply sort the coded mail from the personal mail and put the date on the face of the envelopes of the coded mail. Each week you will take all of your coded mail and put it in a special package that we will supply. Then you will forward it to us for payment. What could be easier?

What Happens Next?

When your package of coded dated mail arrives at our office, we will count the number of pieces in the package and send you a check the same day along with another special package for your next group of coded dated mail. We then match the mail you sent us and forward it to the proper list owner for his use.

When you receive the next correspondence from us, it will include the following: 1) A payment of 30¢ for each coded dated piece of mail inside. 2) A payment for the postage money you spent to send us the previous package. 3) Another special package for the next group of mail.

Examples: Suppose various packages contained the following quantities of coded dated mail on different occasions. Here is how much money you would receive:

Group One contains 384 pieces in the package you forwarded us - WE PAY YOU $115.20 plus the postage money you spent to send us the package!

Group Two contains 871 pieces in the package you forwarded us - WE PAY YOU $261.30 plus the postage money you spent to send us the package!

Group Three contains 917 pieces in the package you forwarded us - WE PAY YOU $275.10 plus the postage money you spent to send us the package!

We want you because we have a current need for agents with decoy addresses all over the United States. Our address is so well known that it could never be used as an effective decoy. Not to mention, many of our list owner clients are involved in regional mailings, thus we need decoys in all 50 states. Consequently, it doesn't matter where you live, you can become a Mailing List Protection Agent as long as you have an address in the United States or Canada.

How You Can Get Started So You Can Make Extra Money As A Mailing List Protection Agent

In order to get officially registered as a Mailing List Protection Agent, you must pay a one time fee as indicated on the LIFETIME

REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE. The fee covers all the computer costs of getting your code name and address integrated into the system, setting up your file for payment in our office, and start-up kit we will send you as soon as you register.

Your start-up kit consists of easy-to-follow instructions, an easy-to-complete form you must fill out one time for our files, and your first special package to forward coded dated mailing pieces back to us for payment.

Imagine making extra money as a Mailing List Protection Agent. There isn't an easier way to make an honest income. And the best part is that you can make a substantial second income and spend only a few short minutes each week doing it!

The amount of openings we have for Mailing List Security Agents is severely limited. We only need a few honest dependable individuals in each area. Therefore, you must register within the next two weeks to qualify. You have 14 days to forward to us the LIFETIME REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE along with your payment. If you send your registration in after that time, we reserve the right to refuse your request and, of course, immediately return your remittance, if you're rejected because you didn't meet the deadline.

Now is your chance to get in on the easiest way of accumulating extra money that has never been made available. For the next 14 days, you have the chance to join others who are reaping the financial rewards by acting as a Mailing List Protection Agent. Don't lose out on this opportunity to cash in. Say "YES" and ACT NOW before time runs out and it is too late!

Offer good in Canada - U.S. funds only

Sincerely, Susan Williams

Susan Williams, U.S. List Protection Co.

P.S. Please do not request that we register you without payment and later deduct it from your first check. We do not operate in such a manner because there are too many people willing to pay in advance. Furthermore, it creates an unnecessary bookkeeping problem if we have to keep records to remind us to make such deductions.

Bulpen Bulletins

I GOT THIS LETTER

a while back. It's from Herb Trimpe who's been a top Marvel artist since Tatanakamon were diapers. High-flyin' Herb pilots his very own plane—a nifty-looking open-cockpit biplane—around the country in his spare time, by the way. Here's his letter...

Dear Jim,

I thought you might get a bang out of this. We went to the beach (Delaware shore) for vacation this summer. There's a nice little airport down there at a place called Rehoboth. As we've done the past two years, Linda takes the girls in the car and I fly Alex down in the plane. To make a real long story short(er), Alex and I ran afoul of some weather (not in the forecast), and got homed in by thunderstorms and low visibility along the Delaware River. There was no airport around where I could conveniently set down, so I chose the only possible out, with the rain coming down and the lightning flashing about, we landed in a farmer's soybean field. Just in time, too, as the wind and rain swept through the area. Lines went down, lights went out, branches were felled, the whole bit. Anyway, as we swung around into wind to get everything tied down, we were greeted by this local farmer and his family. Drenched, and we realized inside for dinner, and the rest is history. The whole thing was like something out of "The Great Waldo Pepper." Linda drove up to get us and the next day we drove back to fly the airplane out. If you ever got a spare half hour, I'll tell you about that one, too. Short fells and power lines, etc. Anyway, the upshot, the punch line, the payoff to this episode was that this family's name was Marvel! That's right, the farmer's name is Ray Marvel. Small world, ain't it?

Best to all,
Herb

AND NOW A WORD FROM

VIRGINIA... Virginia Romita, that is. Virginia is our Traffic Manager, responsible for keeping Marvel Comics on time—which she does amazingly well. It's not easy though, believe me. A few days ago, I heard her grumbling, snarling and cursing various Marvel editors' ancestors as she lugged her huge schedule book down the hall. "Virginia," I said, "you've got to vent this anger! Write it down! I'll print what you write on the Bulpen Page for the world to see! It'll make you feel better... and save me some writing."

She agreed—and so, it gives me great pleasure to present:

Virginia Romita's Rostrum

Let me introduce myself. My name is Virginia Romita. I keep the schedules and traffic moving at Marvel Comics. I have a meeting with the editors and their assistants every week and chart the progress of their books. I don't expect much from them—just perfection. They don't miss the mark too often considering the problems they have to meet and solve. I like due dates on all books to be met and kept. They in turn try to meet them and keep the quality of the books as well—no easy task I assure you. Consider all the obstacles. For example, one artist's cat fell out the window not once, but on three separate occasions forcing him to miss his due date each time. One writer had the misfortune of having a bird build its nest outside his bedroom window—the constant chirping kept him from sleeping, therefore unable to write—another due date missed. You'd be amazed how many portfolios are lost or stolen on the subway, how often lack of supplies, birth human or animal, 24 hour nervous breakdowns, cause delays. I am, if we ran a contest on the most imaginative excuse given for missing a deadline, we'd be hard pressed picking a winner. Despite the never ending catastrophes, the editorial staff does a terrific job. Or else! They put out great comics and (almost) always on time.

HYPE BOX

ALIEN LEGION #1—We've been showing little hints and glimpses over the past few months, but now we're ready to unveil it at last—Marvel's latest groundbreaking comic? CARL POTT, ALAN ZELENETZ, FRANK CHIOCCIO, and TERRY AUSTIN have pooled their mighty talents to produce the most different series of the year, featuring a veritable army of the most bizarre, colorful, and intriguing alien creatures ever to grace a comic page. It's destined to be the talk of fandom—so pick it up, or you'll be left out of a lot of conversations!

GRAPHIC NOVEL #10—RICK VEITCH wrote and drew this daringly different science fiction adventure tale. Set on a far distant earth colony where people worship "The Sponcer," a stars a guy by the name of Subbo Freezone. It's an outer space love story with commercial interruption! And if you want to find out just what that means, you'll have to pick up the novel, won't you?

I can't close this article down without mentioning the JR's (John Romitas) in my life.

John Sr. who used to draw Spider-Man, was not one for being late—but at what price. Way back when I was waiting to be driven to the hospital on John Jr.'s impending birth, Sr. asked if he had enough time to finish up the comic page he was working on. I guess he never thought of making up some story for not turning it in. He should have consulted with his friend the late Bill Everett, creator of Submariner. Bill was a creative genius. Once, when he missed a deadline, he claimed that his pet hamster ate through 6 pages of finished penciled pages (and never got indigestion). Now, no one could have made that up—or could they? Obviously, his hamster did not approve of comics as an art form.

You know, I was so concerned about getting this thing started I forgot it was going to need an end. I feel like the actor with stage fright, but when he got on stage did not want to leave. The only way seems to be to tell you I've enjoyed talking to you.

Virginia

THIS JUST IN...

If you're a fan of computer adventure games, you'll be pleased to hear that Marvel Comics is teaming up with Adventure International, the leading computer games company, to do a series of games involving Marvel characters. Scott Adams, the famous game designer who heads up A.I., has had extensive meetings with myself, John Byrne and Bob Budiansky to make sure the games are true to the Marvel Universe. And if you're a fan of Marvel Comics, you'll also be pleased to hear that we'll be publishing comics based upon the games! Keep watching.

PRICE INCREASE?

No, not in the foreseeable future! Thanks to you people buying a lot of comics, we're able to hold the line! We appreciate your enthusiastic support, and in return, we're doing our best to keep prices where you want 'em—as low as possible!

Dear Ann,

HULK #293 was such a heartwarming turnaround! After reading this issue's preview in MARVEL AGE, I thought for sure #293 was going to be about some sick lunatic who attempts to assassinate the Hulk. Boy, was I ever wrong! HULK #293 proved once again that Marvel Comics has style! The developments in the life of the intelligent Hulk, especially Bruce Banner's nightmares, look to me like foreshadowing for HULK #300.

Sal Buscema and Gerry Talac make a fantastic art team! Pages 20 and 21 were dazzling!

All in all, HULK #293 was a great issue! Oh, and in response to Stacey Lassman's letter, I would also love to see a U-Foes limited series. Now and always, Make Mine Marvel!

Chance Bartels
4983 Odins Way
Marietta, GA 30067

Dear Hulk,

Where are you? Ever since a few months ago, I don't know you anymore. You aren't the same person (monster) as you were five years ago. The Hulk used to be a mass of strength and savagery that no one could control. I used to think you were the most powerful man-monster on the face of the earth, but now you're just another Thing or Sasquatch (or even Spider-Man, for that matter).

I used to collect your stories to read about how you would pound your enemies to a pulp. Then you'd leap away and change back to your so-called "human self." But now you use strategies, in which you think of a way to beat your foe.

Hulk, you think too much. You never used to think of a way to beat your foe. You would just let your fists do the talking. I miss lines like, "Hulk will smash!" Or, "Hulk is the strongest one there is!" We just don't hear Hulk say that anymore.

Bring the old Hulk back. I sure miss him.
Paul Zielinski
330 South Seventh
Rogers City, MI 49779

Dear Hulk-Writers,

Giving the Hulk Banner's brain was a very good idea. I like the Hulk more now that he is no longer stupid. Hearing him say "Hulk smash!" becomes boring after a while. Please don't have the Hulk turn, as General Ross put it, "savage" again. He is much better the way he is now.

His stories have also improved since you've given him Banner's brain, especially the recent issues in which he fought Modok and the Abomination. They were a vast improvement over his past stories in which he was savage.

Benjamin Stebor
6613 Shangri-la Lane
Lantana, FL 33482

And so it happens again. It seems that most of our letter writers want to comment on the "Savage Hulk vs. Intelligent Hulk" controversy. Some of the letters we have been getting are quite thought-provoking...

Dear Ann,

Don't kid yourself. The Hulk hasn't found peace or acceptance. What he's found is oblivion. He deserves far better.

When you strip away all the circumstantial tragedy in the Hulk's life, what is clear is that his real problem was Banner all along. Bruce has always hated himself, which meant that as the Hulk he has also hated himself. Of course, the Hulk could never understand that he was Banner, that hating Banner was the same as hating Hulk, but certainly Bruce is smart enough to figure this out. This is called mental illness, Ann, the same problem Tony Stark is losing to. So get it fixed!

What's needed isn't for Hulk to become intelligent, but for Bruce Banner to see a therapist! If he could remove the hatred from his soul (and, consequently, from Hulk's soul), they could both have the freedom they need. Henry Pym, fellow Avenger and friend, has faced the enemy (mental illness) and beaten it. He is the man who could save Banner. He could talk to him, show him who the enemy really is, and send him to the kind of help he really needs: professional help.

Consider it, Ann, for the Hulk has a right to his own life, just as Bruce does. And we, his long-time friends, miss him.

Mark J. Brown
2971-3 Byron Center
Wyoming, MI 49509

Dear Marvel,

I just wanted to drop a line congratulating Sal Buscema on the event of his 100th issue of THE INCREDIBLE HULK! Sal started out on HULK #194 and, with the exception of four issues, has been on board ever since! In these days of artist musical-chair turnover, a run of this kind is truly remarkable.

And, hey, let's not forget Bill Mantlo, either! As of HULK #295, he will have been on board for 50 straight issues! Considering these anniversaries and their 50+ issue stint on ROM, these two clearly enjoy working with each other. Let's hope they stick together for another fifty at least!

Bob Lackey
25 Wanamaker Avenue
Mahwah, NJ 07430

We gotta agree with you, Bob. What Bill and Sal have been doing with the Hulk is truly remarkable, if not totally incredible!

Dear Marvel,

Who is stronger, the Silver Surfer or the Hulk? Please answer because the other times you didn't because you never look at the letters.

Craig Christensen
3534 Dove Hill Drive
Salt Lake City, UT 84121

The strength of both the Hulk and the Silver Surfer is listed in the Marvel Universe. As to which one would win a battle between them, well, you're just going to have to wait and see like the rest of us.

Oh, and we look at the letters the old-fashioned way: We read them.

Dear Bill and Sal,

The only thing that puzzles me about the Hulk is that Rick Jones is supposed to be black. I have read comics where Rick is black. Even on the cartoons, Rick is white. I would like to know what happened.

Derrick Kent
1017 Edmondson Ave.
Tarboro, NC 27886

Rick Jones has been white since his first appearance in the HULK way back in 1962. About ten years later, Hulk had teen-ager Jim Wilson hanging out with him. Jim is black, and still occasionally runs into the Hulk. You might be thinking of him and not Rick.

Next month: The secret of the Hulk's personality change is revealed, and the stage is set for what may be the most awful confrontation of his life — and with one of his oldest, closest friends! "Sleep, My Child, and Peace Attend Thee, All Through the Night," written by Bill Mantlo with art by Sal Buscema and Gerry Talac, is essential reading for any true believer! Don'tcha dare miss it!
